Dearest Hubbie boy,

Just got the work done ~~off~~ for the day. And boy, am I tired. Alvin is still out doing chores.

He hasn't changed any yet. huh.

I hear I had a v. mail from you written the 1st of March. Only wish I were there to read it.

Say, by the by, do you like to receive v. mails? I've heard a lot of boys say they don't like them at all at all. huh

They tell us here (over the radio and <sup>in</sup> the papers) to write more v. mails. They get their papers so they say. Seems to me one doesn't get any more than just started until the paper is filled.

Alvin is sound asleep. He certainly is some "cacker".

Karen is growing sweeter every day. I believe I write this all night every time I write you. your probably thinking (guess still be a lump of sugar by the time I see her) ha ha Say, how did you feel or love you gotten over that last letter. Man! That was quite some letter, or would you classify it under letters, eh what??

I'm so sleepy. Wish Alvin would come in so as I could go to bed.

It still takes two weeks for your letters to get here.

Wonder are you in combat again? Certainly hope not. May God bless + protect you in his loving arms.

Rev. received your letter. I'm glad you write him so often. your wonderful!!

Nuttin' ever happens so there
"ain't" nuttin' to write about.

Milda, Leona, Euny & I are planning to go to Joplin Sat. to do some spring shopping. Oh!
you know these women. Lawdy
of course the twins are going too. Marilyn has to go for another shot otherwise we probably wouldn't be going. I believe Marilyn just has to take another shot after this one
and then she is supposed to be cured. Wouldn't that be grand?

How are you coming out with your stationery? I've been writing such long letters that I haven't been putting in any stationery. Perhaps I can slip a couple sheets in this one,
however.
